

Kenneth Slotnick

Kenneth Slotnick is the CEO of talent management company AGI Entertainment Media & Management LLC which was formed by Y Entertainment Group, a division of investor Ron Burkle's Yucaipa Companies, in January 2014 to initially seize opportunities in non-scripted television and the branded lifestyle segments of entertainment. AGI has since expanded into the scripted content for both TV and film with a focus on comedy. Before launching AGI, Slotnick was a senior agent and partner at William Morris Endeavor Agency. He is one of the original, top level TV agents who helped form WME's Branded Lifestyle entertainment department, where Slotnick represented a diverse roster of stars and producers in the TV and lifestyle space during his thirteen years with that major agency. AGI Entertainment encompasses representation of high-level personalities, producers, creators, and projects for all major content platforms in the scripted and non-scripted categories of comedy, drama, culinary, fashion, style, home and health & wellness amongst others. Representation includes television packaging, commercial endorsements, personal appearances, licensing & merchandising, book publishing and digital/social. Slotnick is an attorney who graduated from the Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law in NYC and attained a B.S.M. from Tulane University's A.B. Freeman School of Business.
